Staff Dedicates Yearbook to Assistant Principal

... she leads with enthusiasm. ... she finds positive, workable solutions to complex problems, ... she focuses her attention on helping students and fellow workers achieve their goals. ... she has a smile and love for everyone, the 1984 Yellow Jacket Is dedicated to

Mrs. Jackie Peters

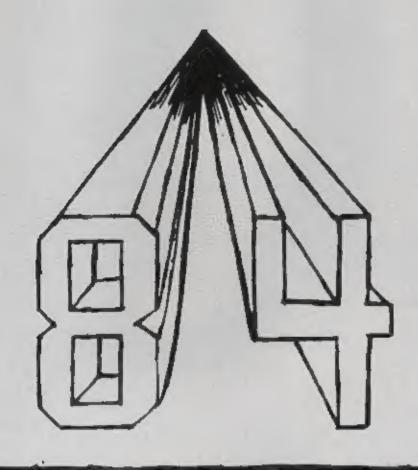

In her fifth year here, Assistant Principal Jackie Peters brings talent, intelligence and a caring attitude to deal with the responsibilities of her office. She quickly gains respect of students and staff members by listening to their concerns, helping find possible answers to seemingly impossible ques-tions, and by sharing with love and delight in their triumphs and achievements.

She demonstrates leadership and the ability to deal with difficult problems in a strong and positive manner. Under her direction, instructional pro-grams and activities are well organized and effective.

She combines the demands of a perfectionist with the motivation of an achiever and the result is a major contribution to the success of Denison Senior High School.

Pep Rallies Boost Spirits

Pep Rallies were something everyone at DHS looked forward to during football season. The combination of cheerleaders, drill team, flag corps, band, and spirit leaders helped to boost spirit throughout the entire season.

LET'S NOT MESS UP — Rifle and flag corps perform their routine during a pep rally.

HEY, LOOK AT ME — Senior Kelli Smith is all excited at the pep rally

SENIORS ARE THE BEST — Seniors Kevin Phillips, Mike McKinney, Kenneth Early, Tim Neal, John Tarver, Jeff Camp, Dan Goodman, and Steve McCraw, show their school spirit at a pep raily. The seniors frequently won the competition yell at the weekly pep railies.

ALL SMILES — The drill team performs one of their many routines at the pep rally. They work long hours to prepare for the pep rallies and football games.

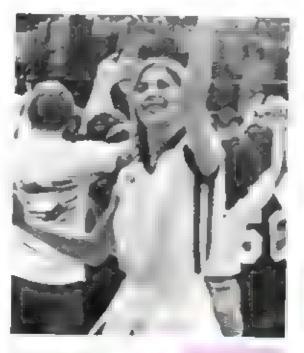

During the summer the drill team practices one week before they go off to camp at Kilgore College for one week.

LOOK AT US — Varsity cheerleaders perform one of their stunts.

STINGERETTE POWER - While at camp they won a first place in military and jazz novelty, the drill team also won the spirit award.

LET'S SING — Junior Valerie Griffith leads the crowd in the Alma Mater.

HAIL TO THEE — All the seniors join together for the Alma Mater at the last pep assembly. It was really sad for the seniors.

1-2-3, 1-2-3 — The rifle and flag corps are keeping time with the band.

DO YOU THINK THEY WILL. EVER COME OUT OF THE DRESSING ROOM? — seniors John Mark Jennings and Lynn Burkhead walt to root on the football team.

I PLEDGE THE ALLEGIANCE TO THE FLAG — seniors Lori Bryant, varsity cheerleader and Tasha Moore, mascot show their respect to the flag before the game begins. Leading the school spirit is just one of the very important jobs the cheerleaders do.

Show Stoppers Spark Halftime

Band, cheerleaders, flag corps, and the Stingerettes are a big part of halftime at DHS during football season. They all have to work hard and practice many hours to put on their best performances during halftime.

I DO NOT KNOW IF I'M DOING THIS RIGHT — freshman Karen House is doing one of her rifle routines during game halftime

MY KNEES ARE GETTING WEAK - Varsity cheerleaders Sherry Wheeler and Lori Bryant do their best on their routine

PLAY IT AGAIN! — Senior Paul Purcell is playing a solo on his trumpet

i sure am GLAD THIS IS OVER! — junior Nikki Melson and seniors Becky Listvan, Kim Jerger show their stuff as they perform the high kick routine "Blazing Saddles."

Club visits art museums

The art club traveled to Fort Worth to take tours of several different art museums.

Club members saw exhibits such as a Japanese sword exhibition at Kimbell Art Museum, a modern art display of living artists at Fort Worth Art Museum, and southwestern art by such artists as Remmington and Russell at Amon Carter Museum.

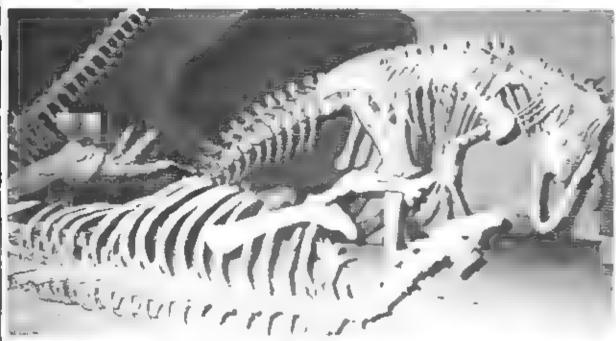

Drama plays successful

The drama department, under the direction of Mrs. Sylvia McBrayer, presented the annual production of the dessert theater and the UIL One Act Play.

The dessert theater consisted of several skits done by all drama students not involved in the One Act Play.

The UIL One Act Play this year was "MacBeth". The cast and crew won first place at district competition and then advanced to area.

Individual honors went to Michele Giasson (best actres), David Harrod and Tammy Moreno (all star cast), and Jane Ann Thomason, Beth Hunter, and Cassandra McBraver (honorable mention all star cast). Other cast members are Sherri Davis, Greg Hales, Nathan Johnson, Tracy Mitchell, and E. J. Thompson. Crew members also included are Trent Hyman, Shellee Neighbors, and Travis Vernon.

FLOWERS FOR ME? - Christi Holder and Dean Lindsay, Drama i students, participated in this year's fourth annual dessert theater

YOU DON'T SAY - Students had a rehearsal in the cafeteria, where the dessert theater was held, to insure a good performance.

Seniors Break Grid Tradition 12-0

Seniors broke a five-year tradition by winning the annual Powder Puff football game 12-0. The benefit girls football game is sponsored by Ebony to raise funds for their scholarship and pits junior girls against senior girls in a hard fought battle.

The seniors took a quick lead in the first quarter with a 25 yard gainer by Lisa Burris but Sherry Wheeler's try for the two-point conversion failed.

The seniors' "Bull Defense" took the field, but had all it could do to contain the juniors' Terri Fuggett.

Both teams moved the ball up and down the field, unable to score until the third quarter when Ruthie Wyatt scored the senior's second touchdown.

"I was determined to make a touchdown," Wyatt said.

The juniors are looking forward to upholding the senior winning tradition next year.

"We will be ready to defeat the class of '86," said junior coach Anthony Byers.

Leader Day Is Success

Thirty-four students participated in the annual Leadership Day sponsored by the National Honor Society. The students that participated had to be club presidents or members of the National Honor Society.

Students changed places with faculty members who volunteered to relinquish their duties for the day.

The students learned the type of work teachers do and were expected to prepare lesson plans and conduct classes as usual.

Students also assumed administrative, secretarial and clerical positions as they ran the principal's office and the attendance office.

Seniors Stage "Horror High"

The Senior Class raised funds for Senior Day and carried on the tradition of presenting a play with the staging of "Horror High," a comedy of horrors. For the second year, Mr. and Mrs. John Terry directed the production with help from art teacher Mr. Jerry Pederson, drama teacher Mrs. Sylvia McBrayer, senior sponsors Mr. Earl Turner, Mrs. Gene Sickles, Mrs. Liz Ingram and printing teacher Mr. Franklin

The play drew record crowds and the appreciative seniors treated the directors to a cast dinner party.

"We truly enjoyed working with this group of seniors. The hours got long, but the willingness to work with each other never wore out," Mrs. Terry said.

The cast presented the Terrys with an autographed copy of the Toombs High School mascot - the "Toombs Stones" as a memento of the play.

Betsy Reeves Memorial Scholarship Given

In making the presentation of the first Betsy Reeves Memorial Scholarship, National Honor Society sponsor Ms. Gene Sickles made the following comments:

"I am both saddened and pleased to present the Betsy Reeves Memorial Scholarship. This gives me the opportunity to speak of two young people that I have had the privilege to work with. One, Elizabeth "Betsy" Reeves was valedictorian of the Senior Class of 1983, just one year ago.

This year she was attending Texas A&M majoring in biomedical science and planning to become a veterinarian. She was a beautiful young lady; successful at A&M, faithful to her religion, her family and herself. She was in love and planned to be married this summer.

Just a few weeks ago, Betsy was killed in a car wreck. Her family, her church, this school and a town grieved. The grief is still fresh, but love is stronger, especially the love of a parent for a child. Betsy's mother, Mrs. Linda Lynch and her family, have established a scholarship in Betsy's memory. This scholarship will cover the cost of one full year of tuition to Texas A&M.

Mrs. Lynch has given me the honor of announcing this year's recipient of the Betsy Reeves Memorial Scholarship.

This gives me the opportunity to speak of a second young person that I have enjoyed working with. I am pleased to say that this student is an honors student and is ranked in the top ten of the Senior Class of 1984 — not ten percent but top ten!

Tall, good looking, pleasant
... a very bright young person
... one who has the ability to succeed in any career field, but one who also plans to become a veterinarian. This student should be a wonderful role model for the very modern veterinarians — smart, beautiful ... and female ...
Marlina Smithson.

Marlina has already been accepted to Texas A&M and now, thanks to the Alton Lynch family, she will have her tuition paid in full for her first year.

Congratulations, Marlina."

Senior Day provides fun

Seniors spent their last day together at the Grayson County College West Campus swimming pool and park. Activities began following the graduation rehearsal at Munson Stadium.

The afternoon activities included swimming, playing volleyball and hacky sack, and airplane rides.

Afterwards they ate dinner at the Silver Wings Club and a dance followed.

Seniors sold tickets to the senior play to raise money for the senior day activities.

OFFICIAL REFEREE — Sheila Bartley watches carefully over a friendly game of volleyball which the seniors played in the pool.

YOU WANT A PICTURE OF MOI? — Kristi Howard came prepared with lotion

TIME OUT — Some of the seniors take a short break from the fun while they cool off in the shade.

HEY, GOOFY! — E J Thompson let too much sun get to his head

SHOWING OFF — Robin Fleming, Gina Barnhill and Kelli Smith pose

AN EVERYDAY THING — Playing hacky sack has become a tradition with Denison High School students. It was a great activity to play at senior day

IN CHARGE — Mr. Rick Coulter and Mrs. Sylvia McBrayer kept things under control at the swimming pool.

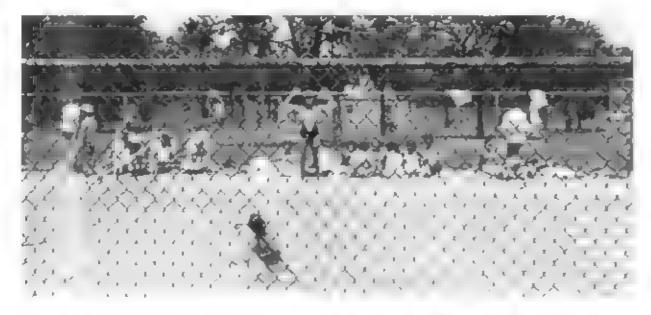

DIGGING IN — Angle Radford helps herself to some candy

WATER ACROBATS — Michele Giasson and Tanya Grigsby, from left, have fun spending the day in the pool

I'LL GET IT — Some students just sun bathed while others played catch by the pool

ALL ABOARD — Chris Hughes boards for the long awarted plane ride

PATIENTLY WAITING — These seniors wait in line for the traditional airplane ride. The waiting was long and the sun was hot, but the ride was worth it

WHO'S NEXT? — Stephanie Ratliff, Christy Remert, and David Carson sit down while waiting for their turn in the plane.

IS IT OUR TURN? — Some students stood in the shade while waiting

High School Comes to End

It was a proud day for 233 Denison High School seniors as they received that long awaited piece of paper — their diplomas.

Family and friends gathered in Munson Stadium to witness the happy occassion filled with tears and joy.

The ceremony began with "Pomp and Circumstance" played by the Yellow Jacket Band. Kevin Wilson, valedictorian, and Suzanna Gray, salutatorian, gave their speeches, and Dr. Jim Williams, Grayson County College president, gave the commencement address.

Mr. Marvin Jaresh, senior counselor, announced the honor graduates, Munson Foundation winners, and Rotary award winners. Mr. Tom Parris, Denison High School principal, presented diplomas with the help of associate principals, Mr. George Petrus and Mr. Bill Parker, board of education members, and faculty members, Mrs. Sylvia McBrayer and Mr. John Terry.

The ceremony ended with the alma mater, led by Tammy Mabary and Rick Pugh.

Wilson Stresses Goal Setting, Hard Work

Success is not a tangible object. It is a quality attributed to a person who achieves beyond normal expectations. True success is the personal satisfaction an individual feels when he accomplishes his goal and knows he worked to his highest capabilities.

Graduation is only a small step for those striving for success. The ability to grow is a treasure. However, in order to prosper from this treasure, one must take action. Only in taking action can a person learn. Aristotle once said, "We learn by doing." As long as we take action, we will never cease to learn new ideas and grow.

People have searched for new secrets and methods for achieving success. The answer is always obvious and simple: human effort. Somehow the world seems to be unwilling to admit that simple, good oldfashioned hard work is the basis for success. But work is the lever by which we can rise in the world. To get the best and most from life, put the best and most of yourself into it.

Thomas Edison said, "I never did anything worth doing by accident, nor did any of my inventions come by accident; they came by work." The best kept secret of success is that hard work always precedes success.

Every individual is capable of achieving success if he is motivated to make the commitment to excellence and to make the sacrifice of hard work and effort. The secret of this motivation is believing in oneself and setting goals.

The Yellow Jacket baseball team of 1984 set a goal to be the best that it could be. The achievement of this goal was preceded by many hours of hard work contributed by each member of the team. The result of this endeavor was the first district baseball championship for Denison in twelve years.

Henry David Thoreau once said, "Men were born to succeed, not to fail."

Graduation is certainly an ambition of all high school students. We seniors have met this aim, but goal setting should never end. We should set short range goals to build selfconfidence and to provide strength for the attainment of the more difficult tasks.

In setting goals, we must be realistic and always maintain a positive attitude. Positive thinking is a way of looking at yourself that will help build your strengths, overcome your weaknesses and help you tolerate your limitations.

I am very proud to stand before you as the Valedictorian of the Class of 1984. My challenge to you is to set your goals high, be positive, and "Go make a life for yourself; anyone can make a living." Always remember when striving for your goals, hard work is a prerequisite for success, and "Becoming is superior to being."

> Kevin Wilson Valedictorian

"Keep Faith, Dream, Go for it!" Gray Urges

Dr. Jacobs, Dr. Scott, Mr. Parris, members of the school board, distinguished guests, faculty, parents, relatives, friends and fellow graduates, welcome to the 1984 commencement exercises for Denison Senior High School. I would like to thank all of you for being here tonight.

There have been many teachers along my 12 year Journey who have encouraged me in certain areas. I have been guided and molded by these dedicated people and my life is richer for having been through their classes. A special thank you goes to these teachers for their patience and help in my life.

I also wish to thank my parents and my family for supporting and encouraging me. Their love has helped me to keep trying when I felt discouraged; and lifted me up when life knocked me down.

I thank the Lord for the talents He has given me, and the ability to develop these talents. May I prove worthy to fulfill His plan for my life.

Fellow graduates, whichever path our lives take, I would like you to remember a few things. First, keep your faith. Above all, keep your faith, It will keep you going when all else seems to fail. God loves each one of us with a love beyond imagining, and He has a plan for each of our lives.

If we keep faith in Him, He will give us the tools necessary for the job He has called us to do.

Second, our eyes were placed in the front of our head so we would look ahead, not behind. Memories are nice, but don't live in the past. Look ahead to all the opportunities and experiences life has to offer.

No matter how successful you are, always have a goal. Without a dream, life will become boring and dull. Don't ever give up until it is reached.

No matter how hard it may seem, keep striving until you attain your goal.

Don't ever think the job you happen to have is insignificant, menial or below you. It is important that you like what you are doing. To wake each morning to go to a job you do not like is a living death.

Whatever you want to do or be — go for it. Give it all you've got. If it doesn't work out, start over, you have a lifetime to reach for the stars.

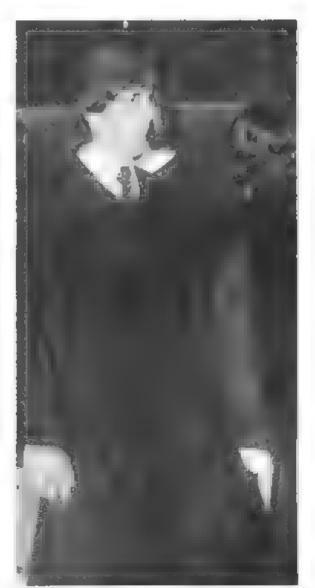

Make friends along the way.
Look below the surface of the people whose lives touch your own. There are many treasures to be found if one is willing to look a little closer.

Last, but not least, I would like to pass on to you the advice the Maharani of Rangpur gave her children: "Always keep an open mind, but not so open that your brain falls out."

Suzanna Gray Salutatorian

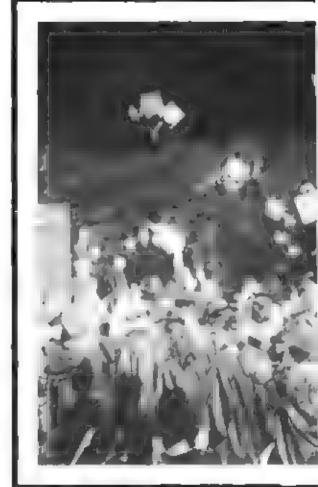

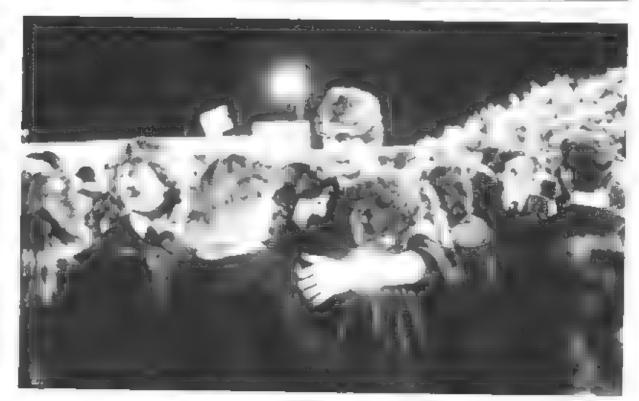

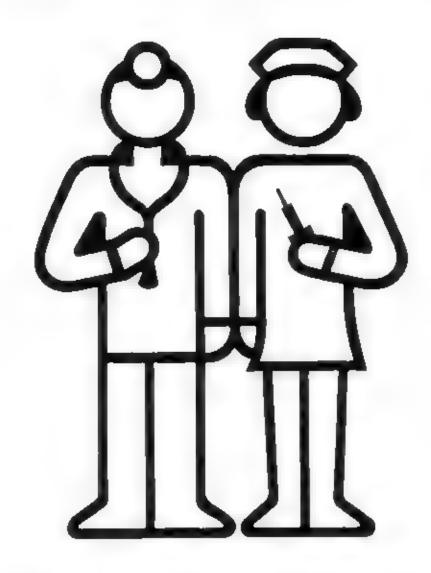

After graduation, you may not want to become a doctor or a nurse...

but you could still find a career in health care.

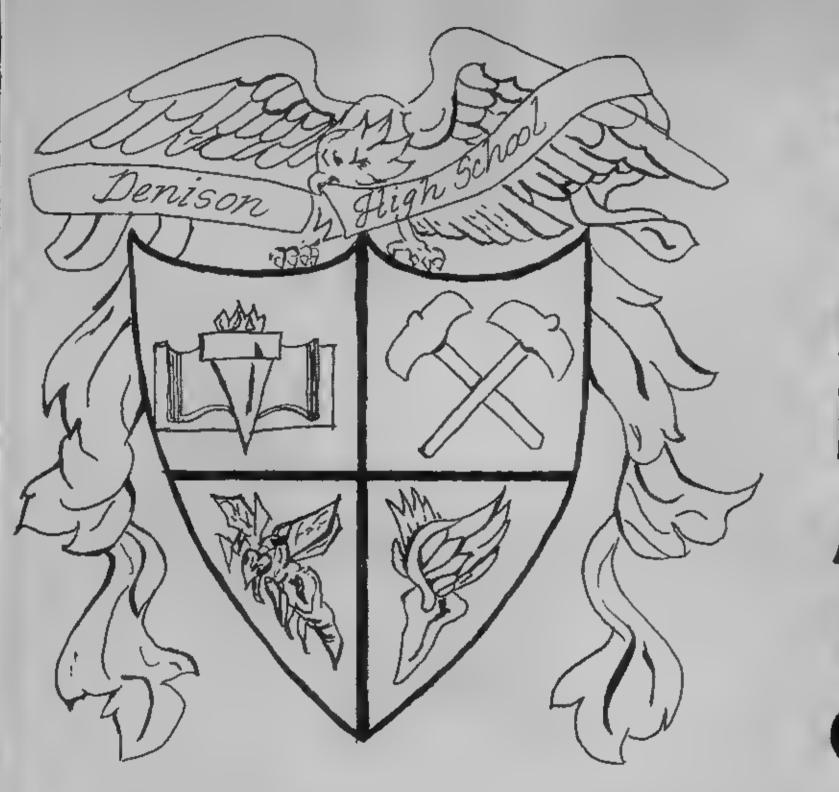

That's because for every doctor or nurse there are dozens of support personnel working in numerous health-related occupations. Texoma Medical Center, for instance, employs businessmen and women, laboratory technicians, computer specialists, carpenters, physical therapists, and many other professionals from the Texoma area. We're building a reputation on innovation!

SEPTEMBER ACADEMICS "84" Begins With More Classes, Students

Being in drill team is more than just fun and games. It requires a lot of work, a lot of time, and the ambition to want to learn.

The Stingerettes perform at football games, basketball games, pep rallies, and parades.

The "Golden Band from Jacketiand" and the flag and rifle corps include approximately 150 talented students this year compared to approximately 120 students last year.

They did very well in the two marching contests they attended.

These students don't practice just during the school year, but all year long. "They are wonderful kids; cooperative, with lots of potential," said Dr. Mike Rallegh, band director.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT — The Stingerettes have to practice early every morning in order to make their routines perfect. They are under the direction of Mrs. Darlene Willoughby,

EVER TRY TWIRLING A RIFLE OR FLAG POLE? — The flag and rifle corps practice hard preparing for an upcoming pep raily and football game

GETTING IT TOGETHER — Stacy Weger and Beth Cash practice a routine

PAY ATTENTION EVERYONE — Sandy Toth, drum major, directs the band

as Mr. Dan Wynn looks on. The band begin their practices in the first week in August.

Computer classes open new doors for DHS

This year a computer math class has been added to the academic offerings.

Mr. Paul Lacey, instructor, said in order to be successful in operating a computer, each student should have a full year of Algebra I and preferably Algebra II.

Since almost all career fields can be enhanced by some knowledge of the computer and its uses, the main goal for this class is to familiarize the students with computing in general and give a knowledge of programming and the use of the Basic (Beginners All Purpose Symbolic Instruction Code) Computer Language.

HARD AT WORK — Wiley Fritts and Kathy Bunch put their computer skills to use

1 THINK IT'S ALIVE. IT'S TALKING TO ME — Tim Neal and Locke Klima, right, and David Arbuckie and Tracy Mitchell, left, listen to Mr. Lacey as he explains that computers help the students to think in a rational manner.

WHAT DO YOU MEAN THE COMPUTER DOESN'T MAKE MISTAKES — Mr. Lacey watches over Charles Hoff's shoulder while Chris Hughes points out the answer on the board.

HELPI I'M SO CONFUSED — Brian Hackworth raises his hand for help

OCTOBER ACADEMICS

SMILE — Sharra Tinsley learns how to use the 120 camera.

You're On Casey's Camera

Thirty students are enrolled in Mrs. Kay Casey's photography classes this year. The goals of the class are to give the students a basic understanding of photography.

A variety of assignments through the year are given to develop the students' ability to observe, communicate, and express creativity. Also, care of equipment, responsibility for actions, and a self disciplined appraoch to organizing work is emphasized.

Many students are in the photography club. The club participates in homecoming and presents a slide show.

PAYING CLOSE ATTENTION — Tonya Rios and David Harrod listen carefully to Mrs. Casey as she demonstrates how to properly use the different kinds of cameras.

TRYING TO STAY AWAKE — Dan Penn and other seniors and juniors set early alarms to take zero hour classes beginning at 7 30 a.m. The early schedule was initiated to provide for the addition of the ninth grade here.

IT'S MY TURN! — Nat McClure, Karen Heironimus, and friends take turns using the camera.

Freshman English Classes Top Charts

Mrs. Tonia Vernon's English classes were temporarily would-be recording artists. They formed musical groups, wrote their own original songs to depict Denison High school themes and wrote advertising campaigns to promote their groups. This activity was done in conjunction with a unit on composition.

Mrs. Vernon's class has other projects too, such as make believe newspapers and Christmas projects.

The overall English program includes the studies of grammar, American literature, composition, creative writing, and British literature. Seniors are required to do a research paper.

DOUBLE GOOD -- Travis Vernon, Sherry Todd, Jodi Flannagan, Stephanie Baxley, Myron Butler, and Tony Harrelson choose the double album style.

READY ... — Here is an album cover created by David Mannen, David Kirby, Eugene House, David Brock, and Ray Rolen.

DYNAMIC DUO . . . - Michelle Oates and Darren York show off their project

PLANNING STRATEGY - Kim Glenn plans her next move in the war game, 'Diplomacy'.

Ninth grade makes history

Most of the 135 students enrolled in Mr. Keith McBrayer's ninth grade American History classes were very enthusiastic about several classroom activities which included the services of the Denison Educational Television Station. Many students also participated in Junior Historians, a club which involves classroom simulations.

"By the end of the year, students should be able to understand how past events have influenced today's world situations. They should also be able to use deductive reasoning to solve a situation," Mr. McBrayer said.

CLASS MEDIATOR - Mr. McBrayer acted as the class mediator for the

WHAT IF WE MOVE ... ? — Roger Hanson discusses the strategy for his next war games move

ANY SUGGESTIONS? — Glenn White tries to get past the enemy war ships before they destroy his country.

NOVEMBER ACADEMICS

Cosmetology provides experience for students

If the course goal is achieved, cosmetology class gives juniors good foundation in cosmetology, and trains seniors thoroughly, giving them the confidence and knowledge to pass the State Board Exam.

"This year the students have been especially anxious to learn and work," Mrs. Patsy Stengel, Instructor, said. She added, "They are really interested in learning and doing well."

Twice a year, the students hold a Hair-a-Thon to raise money and to get experience working with the public.

Although all of the cosmetology students will not go on to make a career in this field, they will have accomplished a goal after the two year course.

OUCH! THAT'S HOT - Kathy Cook puts the finishing curis in Janet Gardner's hair.

THIS IS EASY — Lisa Ervin rolls a permanent on a mannequin head for experience.

MEN, TOO, CAN BE BEAUTICIANS — Louis Arnett, front, and Tu Ngo work on mannequin heads. Louis is the only male enrolled in cosmetology this year.

STEADY NOW - Stephanie Ratliff cuts very carefully so she doesn't make a mistake. She is one of the seniors who has passed the State Board Exam.

I'M ALMOST FINISHED — Mrs. Stengel dries Mrs. Kay Casey's hair after washing and cutting it. The class accepts patrons twice a week.

STRENGTHENING MUSCLES — Shawn Osbourn does a bench press of 195 pounds to help build up his muscles.

PE students gain fitness for health

Physical Education provides students with a level of physical fitness that is sufficient to enable them to lead healthy lives.

Team concepts are emphasized by dividing classes into special teams for specific contests throughout the year. Drills and demonstrations are also used to teach certain skills and rules of games or sports.

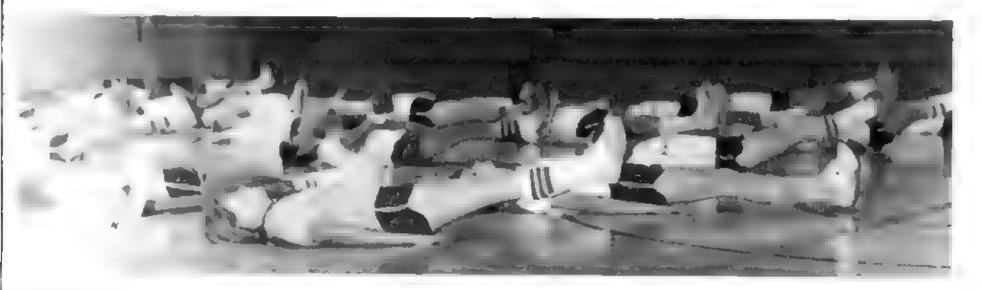

ANXIOUSLY WAITING - Sharon Burden waits for her turn to use the deadlift weight bench.

GOOD HIT! - Coach Warren Trimble participates with students in a game of EVERYONE GET READY - These students set up as the next player begins to serve the ball.

WARMING UP — Exercises are done at the beginning of class to get the students warmed up before beginning the day's activities They play games such as volleyball, basketball, badminton, and softball.

Mi-yong Kim is DHS asset

Korean student, Mi-yong Kim, shared many aspects of native customs with Mrs. Donnie Ward's World History class this year. She demonstrated Oriental culture. Having Mi-yong on campus helps the social studies program achieve one of its goals: that students gain an appreciation for, and an understanding of other people and other countries of the world; both past and present.

Responsible driving is class goal

Drivers Education not only teaches students to drive, it creates a responsible attitude toward driving and the overall transportation system. It teaches students that driving is 90% mental (attitude, concentration, and driving defensively) and only 10% physical. "Most students realize their responsibility, accept it, and indicate it through their participation," Mr. Robert Viana, instructor, said.

ARE THERE ANY QUESTIONS? - Mr. Jack Bumpass explains to students about the different road signs they will encounter while driving.

SHARING CUSTOMS — MI-yong is showing brushes and demonstrating techniques used in Korean writing. She is also writing in both Korean and Chinese characters for the World History students.

GET BACK TO WORK — Bryan Means and Darin Comstock, from left, answer study questions during drivers education class. Planning trips, reading road maps, and reading articles on alcohol and driving are other learning activities used in the classroom.

DECEMBER ACADEMICS

SPREADING CHRISTMAS — These homemaking students organized a Christmas dinner party for the school board.

THEN ADD TWO CUPS OF SUGAR ... - LeaAn Carruth, right, reads the recipe, while Donna Early stirs in the ingredients for a cake and Linda Webb observes.

Homemaking students learn skills

There are 122 students in classes of two homemaking teachers, Mrs. Cathy Kennon and Mrs. Mae Ruth Bentley.

The class consists of cooking, sewing, child care, and craft projects. Activity and participation in the classroom is extremely good, the teachers say.

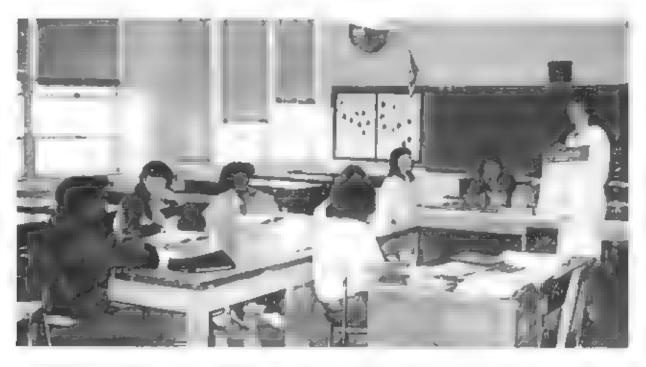

Most of the students are also members of FHA (Future Homemakers of America), which is a service organization open to all homemaking students.

IT'S SEW EASY - Tonee Reed and Candy Galloway work on a sewing project.

BRING TO BOIL - Students use the homemaking room to cook the meals.

DEMONSTRATING TECHNIQUES - Mrs. Cathy Kennon demonstrates to students how to use the sewing guide to alter clothing.

Spanish Celebrates Holiday

To help kick off the holiday season, each of Mrs. Sue Finley's

Spanish classes made a Christmas piñata.

The students made the piñatas on their own time, and they usually met twice a week. They had the month of November to complete each of the piñatas. After each piñata was finished, they all competed in a contest. The winner was chosen for texture, color, and most

A Christmas dinner was also held, and the Spanish students went caroling afterwards.

STRIKING PIÑATA — After the piñatas were judged, students had an opportunity to break them open for the candy that was inside of them.

DEB'S FASHIONS

WE WANT YOU! - Posters were made by Spanish students to try and persuade others to get involved in Spanish.

GETTING TO WORK - Learning to concentrate is emphasized in typing, an ability which can also be helpful in other academic areas.

Typing Is Recommended

Typing is an important skill for all students to know. Aside from learning the actual procedure of typing, students learn how to type jobs such as reports, letters, and research papers, which are often required in school.

After completing the first year typing course, students are expected to type at least 40 words per minute.

ERRORS - Mrs. Bonnie Rodgers, instructor, grades typing papers.

NEED TO BORROW SOME PAPER? - Maria Fisher and André Edwards chose Typing I as their elective choice.

TYPING MANUSCRIPTS — Students type many different job activities.

CONCENTRATING — Students are given timed writings to increase speed.

SITTING UP STRAIGHT - Posture is essential to being a good typist.

JANUARY ACADEMICS

Debaters get experience

Debate enables students to deal logically with argumentation.
The debate team attends approximately eight tournaments a year.
To prepare for these tournaments, they hold practice debate rounds.
They also compete in a mock trial. This is a recreation of a 'real'

They also compete in a mock trial. This is a recreation of a 'real' trial. Students must prepare questions in advance and do research for the given situation.

This year, the mock trial team won third place in competition with several other Dalias area schools. Each debater won a $100 award.

DO IT MY WAY! — Mrs. Carole Linsteadt, instructor, coaches students during their rounds.

ANY REQUESTS? — David Harrod and Greg Hales, from left, do an improvisation scene Improvisations are scenes that students do on impulse when they are given a situation.

HEY, LOOK AT ME, MOM! - Jane Ann. Thomason shows some of her true acting abilities.

PLEASE WILL YOU MARRY ME? -Michele Giasson and Trent Hyman do an improvisation scene for the class.

OF COURSE MY DAD WILL APPROVE OF US — Tanya Grigsby, Greg Hales. and David Harrod stage a love scene.

Drama stages performances

In drama classes, students learn to have more selfconfidence, as well as learning

Although not all drama students participate in the drama contests or musical productions, each student must be in the Dessert Theater which is held in the spring.

The classroom performances include pantomime, prose and poetry interpretations, duet acting, and movement and voice usage.

WHAT DO YOU WANT TO BE WHEN YOU GROW UP? - Tammy Moreno, left, and Nathan Johnson do a part of their duet acting scene from the play "Pfieffers People". With this, they won second place at Bryan Adams High School in Dallas and qualified for state competition

COMEDY/TRAGEDY - Michele Giasson, left, and Tanya Grigsby display the traditional comedy/tragedy faces used in theater

Art students show talent, creativity

Art classes help students realize their creative ability and develop that ability to its fullest potential.

Some of their assignments include drawing, painting, sculpting, designing pottery, and making posters.

Throughout the year, the art classes design stage sets for the Senior High musicals, and murals for other clubs.

TEACHER AT WORK — Mr Jerry Pedersen grades drawings turned in by his art students.

MEASURING SHAPES — Alex Johnson makes an acrylic painting of geometric

ART ON DISPLAY -- These paintings were prepared as a class project to be displayed In the academic fair.

MAKING POTTERY — Kelly Wilkerson designed and made her own pottery.

POLISHING AIRBRUSH TECHNIQUES - Naoko Okado, a Japanese student, learns the airbrush technique while painting a still life.

FEBRUARY ACADEMICS February is vocational education month

Vocational classes are a great way to get involved in school, as well as in the 'real world' of business.

The courses offered are: health occupations, homemaking, industrial co-op training, home economics co-op education, metal trades, drafting, printing, agriculture, building trades, vocational office, cosmetology, and DE and Marketing.

Some of the courses require the students to hold jobs in local businesses outside the school, while others are preparatory classes. Each group of courses also has its own club which is affiliated with state and national organizations.

The club sponsors contests; state, local, and national, and teaches the students parliamentary procedures.

MARCH ACADEMICS

Accounting is profitable

By the end of each year, students should have a basic knowledge of the fundamentals of accounting.

Students learn the basics through workbook assignments and then through self-centered activity. Business Simulation is used, in which students work as an accountant for an imaginary business for two months.

ADDING DOLLARS - Shelly Arthur adds up the accounts of her business.

WORKING TOGETHER — These students help each other out when their checkbooks don't balance.

CLOSING THE BOOKS — Gene Potts puts the finishing touches on his records.

WHERE DID I GO WRONG? -- Portlan Cunningham tries to find the error she has made in her books.

Fundamentals in drafting is objective

To be successful with drafting by the end of the year, students should acquire the essential elements and fundamentals of drafting, and current practices used in industry.

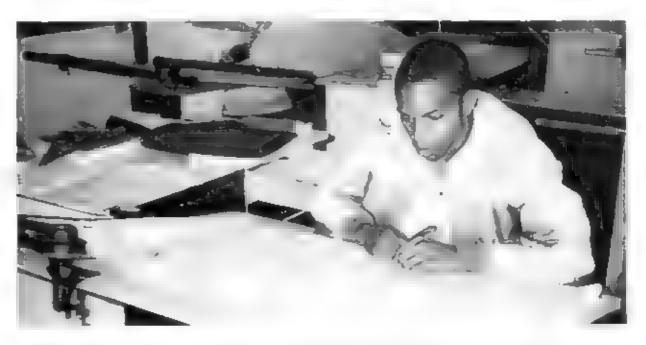

They learn by doing actual drawings and blueprints, studying mechanical and architectural drafting.

A WATCHFUL EYE - Mr Phill Haddock observes over the shoulder of Tanya Leach.

MAKING PRINTS - Kenneth Morrison works at the blueprint machine.

CHECKING IT OUT -- Rick Moore, looks carefully over the blueprints he has designed.

Class Serves Print Needs

Exploring careers in printing while students gain knowledge of materials and machines used in printing is what Mr. Franklin Turner, instructor, hopes to accomplish with his printing classes.

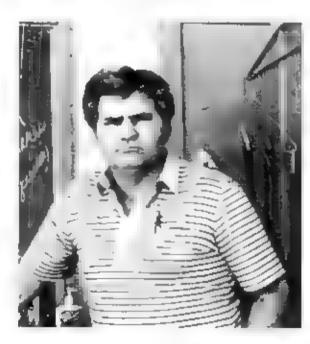

The students do binding, layout designs, offset photography, and offset machine operations. They are also trained to use the process camera to make negatives in the offset procedure.

BE CAREFUL - Kenneth Heathcock operates a Challenge paper cutter.

MECHANICAL DIFFICULTIES - Raymond Jackson makes adjustments on a 360 offset press.

HEY, MR. TI - Mr. Franklin Turner is the printing class instructor.

MAKING ADJUSTMENTS — James Jackson adjusts a 326 tabletop offset duplicator.

IT'S ALL SO CONFUSING - Jimmy Emmons reads the directions on how to develop an offset plate.

OPERATING COMPLICATED EQUIP-MENT — Dennis Davis operates a 310 tabletop duplicator.

REVIVING - Students learned how to bring life back to a dying person.

APRIL ACADEMICS CPR Taught to Students

This year, the homemaking II students learned the procedure of cardiac pulmonary resuscitation, also known as CPR.

The Health Occupations instructor, Mrs. Siv Anderson, taught the technique. The students worked hard to prepare themselves for certification.

The CPR technique should be used only by people that are certified and used for emergency only.

WORKING AS A TEAM - Sherry Wheeler, left, and Vonda Donawho work together to practice the CPR technique on a dummy.

SAVING A LIFE - Monique Powell practices giving mouth to mouth resuscitation

Science Study to Benefit From DE Funds

A strong science program is provided through honors biology and chemistry and regular science courses.

Kris Gundlach, right, worked with other honor biology students on class experiments and the required evening laboratory.

Mr. James Rowland, middle, teaches chemistry classes and biology. Dissecting frogs (below) and cats are part of the biology class work.

This year, the science department received a life-size replica of the human torso from the Denison Education Fund, a non-profit organization dedicated to raising money for enrichment of the Denison schools. Department chairman John Terry, below, demonstrates the model to a student.

The addition of the ninth grade this year brought Mr. Ed Rice and Mrs. Cassandra Neaves to the high school physical science faculty.

USING WORD PROCESSORS — These VOE students use word processors to learn modern communications skills.

Secretarial Work Learned

Vocational office education prepares a student for becoming a secretary.

During the VOE classes, students learn skills such as word processing with the use of a TRS 80 model III computer, bookkeeping, office skills, money budgeting, and other skills necessary to be qualified for an office job.

HELLO. — The skills learned by Shanna Peratta helped her as a secretary.

LEARNING HOW TO ADD ACCOUNTS — Accounting procedure is an important part of being a secretary.

GIVING HELP - Mrs Ann Whitworth, VOE instructor, assists Audra Weaver.

HOW DO YOU WORK THIS THING - Mrs. Meg Mayes, VOE instructor, shows Sandi Melvin how to operate the copier

MAY ACADEMICS

Stinger is learning lab

Working as journalists for the Stinger, students should be able to assign coverage areas and produce a newspaper that communicates information, educates and informs. They should be able to design a pleasing layout, set type, paste up, and meet deadlines.

The Stinger, besides having the responsibility of serving the students as their newspaper, is a learning laboratory for journalism students. It is a student publication where they can practice skills and improve writing ability.

WRITING HEADLINES - Steve Williams, Stinger reporter, won third place in the U.L. headline writing contest

PROOFREADING STORY - Mrs Kay Casey approves of a story assignment from one of the Stinger reporters.

ERRORS! ERRORS! - Butch Hall pastes over errors in the Stinger before it goes to press.

Staff Produces Yearbook

Students working on the Yellow Jacket yearbook will learn skills used in publishing: coverage of the school year in words and pictures, photography, page design, layout, and preparation of copy.

The class is organized like a magazine publishing company with an editor, and areas of coverage assigned to each class member. Activities include assigning coverage, taking photographs, printing pictures, writing copy to inform the reader, writing captions for pictures, organizing work and coordinating work with others. The yearbook staff learns to publish a magazine-style product from the beginning (assigning coverage and developing number of pages needed) to end (sending complete design layouts, copy, cutlines, and pictures to the publishing company).

PROOFREADING — Debbie Hedrick reads over her copy before turning it in.

TYPING COPY — Brian Watson types the copy for his sports page.

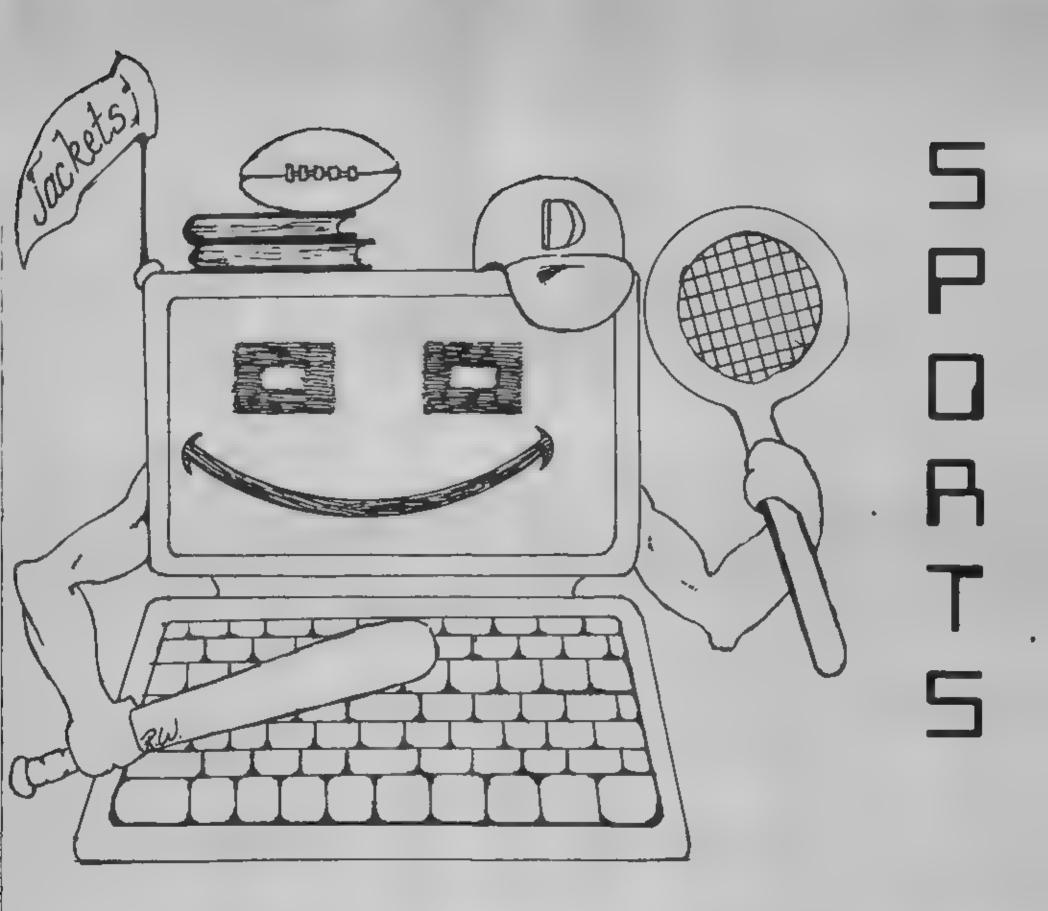

PLANNING LAYOUT - Brad Peel plans the layout for one of the yearbook

WRITING CUTLINES — Christy Gray writes cutlines for the pictures on her

CEL-E-BRA-TION — Jackets celebrate after a marvelous come from behind victory over the Paris Wildcats.

Jackets Win 3, Lose 7

From the two consecutive non-district wins, to the heartbreaking, season ending loss to Sherman, the 1983 Yellow Jackets Varsity football team had an up and down year.

The Jackets started out the year with two tough losses, a 9-8 loss to R.L. Turner and a 13-3 defeat by Richardson Berkner. The next week the Jackets put together a 13-10 victory over Paris at home. They then traveled to North Dallas, where they had an impressive win over the Bulldogs, 17-0. The Jackets returned home to another close defeat. This time Dallas Adamson won 20-15.

The Jackets entered district play with a 2-3 record, and were showing improvement, but they suffered defeats by Wichita Falls Rider 28-6, and Weatherford 24-7, before returning to Denison for the Homecoming game.

The Jackets were fired up for the home crowd and soundly defeated Wichita Falls High 29-0. The next week Denton handed Denison their third district defeat 17-12. Denison closed out the season with a heartbreaking loss to longtime rival Sherman 21-14.

J.V. Posts 6-4 Season

The Yellow Jacket junior varsity football team proved to have a successful year, displaying a lot of talent for the next year's varsity team.

In all ten of their games, the J.V. played well, their six victories, they won by an average of more than 16 points. In their four losses they were defeated by an average of four points.

Outstanding players on the J.V. offense were Leslie DeHorney, Tony Plauche, and Craig White. On defense, the Jackets were led by Phillip Harris, Darrin Comstock, and Aaron Jackson.

UP THE MIDDLE — Elmer Perry (89), attempts a point after touchdown against Richardson Berkner, as teammates Craig White (24), Dean Lindsey (80), and Ron Burger (79) provide protection. Denison won 32-18.

GANG TACKLE — Cameron Scally (81) Cliff Fuggett (14), and an unidentified player converge on a ball carrier.

UNSTOPPABLE — Jeff Dodson seems unstoppable as he avoids would be tacklers.

Volleyball Wrap-Up

The Lady Jacket Varsity Volleyball team posted a 14-10 season record during the 83-84 season and a 1-5 District record.

The highlight of District was the play of Angela Snell. Snell was voted to the 5-5A All-District Volleyball team by District coaches. It was Snell's third time being mentioned as All-District. Snell served for 107 points, with an 88% serving average. She also had 102 spikes.

At the Winter Sports banquet Linda Carruth was voted Most Improved, Konta Thomas was named top server and Snell was selected Most Valuable Player.

The Junior Varsity ended their season with an outstanding record of 13 wins and 4 losses. They also settled for a 3-3 split in District.

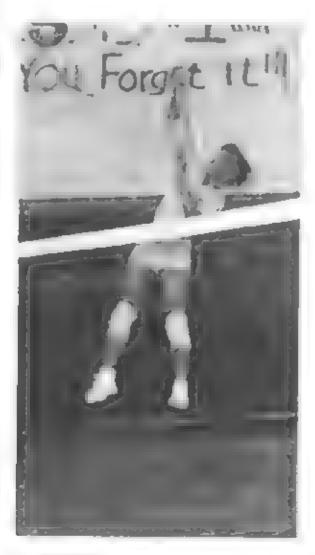

Top server for the J.V. was Treina Brown with 114 service points. Top offensive players were Sandra Brown and Ivery Jackson.

The Freshman Volleyball "A" team posted a 6-5 record for the season and a 6-4 District record. Outstanding offense players were Vickie Craddock, Nell Wyatt, and Shanda Tillery. Outstanding defensive players were Wyatt and Tillery.

The "B" team ended with an astonishing 8-0 season record and an 8-0 district record. Outstanding offensive players were Kecia Wimbish, Candi Cassell, and Shanna Parker. Outstanding Defensive players were Parker and Cassell.

Jackets post 6-21 record defense tops in north Texas

The 1983-84 basketball season was a disappointment for the Jackets. The Varsity team who had one of the top defenses in North Texas, had many close games, but could only manage a 6-21 record.

That strong Jacket defense, which allowed only a season average of 51.3 points per game, was a major factor in the Jackets two district wins. Denison downed Wichita Falls Rider 68-53, and embarrassed Weatherford 66-48.

The team captains for the 83-84 season were Kevin Wilson, and Sam Williford. Other senior players were Jack LaBonte, Mike Schmuelegen, and Tyrone Luper. Returning to next year's team will be juniors Allen Mobley, Leslie DeHorney, Fred Washington, Anthony Byers, and sophomore Erick Harper. Also returning are Brian Watson and Ronnie Corcoran who saw limited time on the Varsity.

The Denison J.V. had a mediocre season finishing 11-14 and 3-7 for the season and District respectively. Denison did well in tournament play winning their own tourney and placing second in the Arlington Sam Houston Classic.

The three district wins came at the expense of the Weatherford Kangaroos and the Wichlta Falls High Coyotes. The J.V., led by guard Ronnie Kelly, forwards Robert Stubbs and Brian Watson were too much for the Roos to handle. Weatherford was downed 56-30 and 45-25. The Coyotes were dumbfounded after blowing a 13 point lead with six minutes left in the fourth quarter to lose 41-39. Top offensive players were Watson, Stubbs, and Kelly. Top defensive players were Watson, Anthony DeHorney, and Kevin Emery.

Denison District Champs

The 1983-84 Denison Yellow Jackets baseball team did something that had not been accomplished at this school in 13 years. They won the district championship. They finished the season with an overall record of 16 wins and 11 losses and a district record of 8 wins and 2 losses.

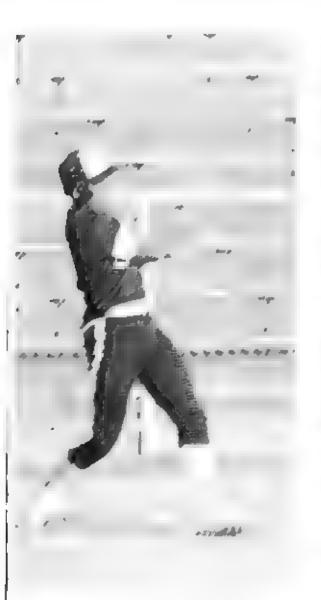

The season had many highlights. The majority of the Jackets offense was provided by Ty Comstock Jr. with eight home runs and Raymond Wilson with a batting average of .472. The defense was helped by strong performances from pitchers Ty Comstock Jr., Tony Plauche, and Mark Wright, and infielders Ronnie Crause and Allen Mobiey.

HEARTY SMILE — Tim Neal gives a big smile after hitting a triple.

Jackets Place 8 on District

The Yellow Jackets players honored by the District 5-5A coaches were pitcher Ty Comstock Jr., shortstop Ronnie Crause, outfielder Raymond Wilson, and Tim Neal, catcher named to First Team All-District. Named to the second team were second baseman Allen Mobley, and third baseman John Tarver. Ty Comstock Jr. was also recognized as Most Valuable Player, Ty Comstock Sr. was selected as Coach of the Year, and Tony Plauche was honored as Newcomer of the Year.

'84 Track: Transition Year

The old cliche "This was a year of transition," could be applied to this year's track season. The '84 team was composed mostly of sophomores and juniors, plus a new coach; Kevin Sides. The cliché was very much in effect here at DHS.

But every dark cloud has a silver lining, and for the tracksters it was in the form of Ray Taylor and Rick Moore. Taylor broke Jessie Locke's 1970 long jump record of 21-10 with a leap of 22-8, but Taylor wasn't finished. He broke his four week old school record at the district track meet with a leap of 23-1 to finish third by a half-inch.

Moore was the only Jacket to qualify for Regionals in Lubbock by placing second at district in the 800 meter run with a time of 2:02:97. Denison finished fourth in the meet.

Leonard Bevels, Danny Hauber, Tony Brown, and Leslie DeHorney had good performances earlier but failed to qualify for regionals.

DETERMINATION — Darlene Flemmings does her best on her leg of the relay.

BLINDING SPEED — Konta Thomas displays her speed at the district meet at Weatherford.

WHAT A RACE — Two Lady Jackets relax after a race at the district meet

UP AND OVER — Sophomore Danny Hauber clears 6'3" at the Yellow Jacket Relays to finish second.

I CAN DO IT - Ruthie Wyatt drives to take over the lead.

DON'T TAKE ALL DAY — Sherry Wheeler waits for a teammate to bring in the relay baton

TRUE DETERMINATION — Sandra Brown goes all out to help win first.

Lady Jackets Send Six to Regionals

DHS Lady Jackets under the direction of second year coach Warren Trimble sent six girls to regionals in Lubbock: Nell Wyatt, Ruthie Wyatt, Sherry Wheeler, Terri Fuggett, Darlene Flemmings, and Carrie Shope.

Wyatt qualified in five events, the triple jump, long jump, 200 meter dash, 400 meter relay, and 800 meter relay. Shope qualified in the 3200 meter run.

The Lady Jackets took second at district in Weatherford.

Brett Edelin, Coach Kevin Sides, Trent Hyman, and Rick Moore.

Cross-Country Takes Second

The 1983-84 cross country team placed second in district and qualified for regionals.

At the district meet individual rankings included Tim Myers, who completed the 3.1 mile run with a time of 17:30 and placed seventh, Robert Jones who came in eleventh with a time of 18:14, Rick Moore who ran a time of 19:14 and finished thirteenth, Brett Edelin had a time of 19:49 and placed fourteenth, and John Mueller was fifteenth with a time of 19:50.

I'M READY - Junior Trent Hyman warms up before the district meet.

Learning Experiences Stretch Abilities

Computers and class clowns contribute to motivation for learning.

Office assistants learn as they help account for attendance, answer telephone calls, file and do routine office chores. Leonard Bevels responded affectionately to the nickname "hall girl" as he invaded the usually all-female job.

Parents trade places with their seniors and appreciate the current practices in English class. Mr. Gene Sickles invites this practice during Public School Week and requires parents to carry on with regular class activities.

Students, Staff Say Farewell, Godspeed to Retiring Friends

The careers of two dedicated ladies ended in retirement this year as they moved on to different lifestyles.

Mrs. Dodie White, top photo, long time attendance clerk retired during the year because of her husband's ill health. In her 16 years at DHS, Mrs. White kept the official attendance records which were the basis for state funding for the schools. She issued admission permits and permits to leave campus. She also doled out detention hours for truants who skipped classes.

"I enjoy working with the students and the faculty," she said as she prepared to turn over her desk to Mrs. Roger Hanson, wife of the choral music director for the schools.

Mrs. White's ready smile and helpful attitude eased many tense situations when attendance became a requirement for receiving credit in class. Students with more than nine absences lose class credit unless they go through an appeals process and produce doctor's verification of illness.

Another of the most helpful people on campus, Mrs. Bernice irby, bottom photo, has been in charge of the high school learning resources center since it was called a library, but she has been a teacher for many years.

Mrs. Irby joins her husband Principal Lyndol Irby In early retirement with plans to travel and spend more time enjoying their new home and their farming and ranching activities.

Being instrumental in organizing and outfitting the "new" library, Mrs. Irby has seen many changes since coming here. During her tenure at the high school, the audio visual aids have become instructional media and have been broadened to include video cassettes and computers.

Under her direction, the center has become a meeting place for school-related groups and an information center vital to the education of students and staff.

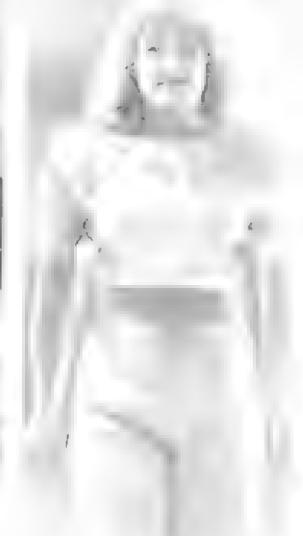

Her cheerful personality has helped many unlock recorded wisdom and put it to use.

The Flower

On a sunny walk, I discovered a flower. Its petals were wilted, And slowly dying. I stared at it for a moment And then I realized. How lives change. And how nothing remains the same. Lives are lived. Hearts can suffer. But I couldn't help Crying for this flower. It came into life with a purpose. Its purpose was simply beauty, The same as mine. Yet one day I'll be wilted and dying too.

Think of the River

There was this place When I was a little girl With nowhere to face I would run to the end of the world I would find peace there So cold I would shiver On the bank Of an icy cold river. It was away from home That I found That I had to roam. And never be bound. I think of it still But I am far away From my river by the hill Where I used to play.

By Diana Henry

There's Someone at the Door

As I was lying in bed, all dressed in a gown of red, There was a knock at my door, but answering it seemed such a chore.

But when I got downstairs, I found nothing there. So I went back to bed. Sure that I was out of my head.

The knocking came back, But of time I had lost track. When will it all end. My patience is running thin.

When I go to the door, The knocking is o'er. If I be back down, The knock is still around.

Now I wake up at last, To find it has all passed. But was this a dream That's the way it seems. By Syl Lys (Andrew Foran)

The Dreamer

As I walk along the beach this day, Thinking of lovers far away, Faraway places in a foreign land, walking along, hand in hand. Lovers forever, or so they say, What a beautiful end to that special day. The low hanging moon and one cloud in the sky. I was just trying to think of how to say goodbye. Just a weekend away and all will come true. But tell me, Lord, why am I so blue? By Sheila Stewart

The End

Staying together as if by fear, Living as though the end is near. The world was once such a beautiful place, But now there's nothing but empty space. How did it happen? They say it was war. But I think NO ONE cares anymore. By Sheila Stewart

Love.

The source of life, The drug of man. The sole keeper of time Immeasurable totally without dimension, boundaries or limits. It's the key to the heart and The doorway to the mind. It's you.

Time...

Time is what passes away and the thing that man mourns the most.

With the ticking of time goes the passing of life. Some watch the clock anticipating the final hour. Some never see the passing, Only the wents.

Others know of the passing and revel in the joy.

Laughter

Laughter is a fountain of joy

Bubbling with happiness. It fills our hearts with love and understanding, And good things we should Laughter is a clear pond of Washing away all of our Laughter is a gift from heaven Fighting all of our tears. Laughter is a sweet smelling Filling our hearts with goodness and hope. It helps us through this lonely world That is hard to cope. Laughter is a melody. It works all through our lives. Even though laughter helps us All we have to do is strive.

Family

A family can reach out and feel light blue feelings of sadness and change them to a vibrant orange feeling of happiness.

A family gives many warm red feelings of love.

A family shares many feelings of bright yellow hope and many great indigo feelings of truth.

A family also shares many wonderful violet feelings of trust.

A family shares many pale green feelings of caring. A family is truly a rainbow.

"To everything there is a season and a time to every purpose under the heaven:

A time to be born, and a time to die;

A time to break down, and a time to build up;

A time to weep, and a time to laugh;

A time to mourn, and a time to dance;

He has made everything beautiful in its time . . . "

A Chance

Hurt and scared; sharp like a knife. No one knew her or really cared. No one took her, showed her, or shared. No one could see she needed to be free. No one could accept the way she had to be. Now she's gone, And still alone. Now we wonder when it's too late. Now that she's standing at the gate, Will she be left out like the times before; Will she once again be pushed out the door? We won't know 'cause we didn't take time to show Her love, everyone should know. Maybe tomorrow when we see someone else who needs to be free, We'll show them the way to eternity. And that someone will grow to love. And they can be as free as a dove. And they can have, without a glance, What Dana didn't have . . . a chance. By Samantha Littrell I do care I just didn't care soon enough.

or that her father wondered why.

Was there something inside That she felt she must hide? Did she feel all alone Or had her anger just grown? Did she need us to be near Just to tell us her fears? Did she need her friends there Just to show her they cared? Did she want someone to love Or did she just need to be

She didn't know her mother

A dark haired girl alone in life, loved? Did she want someone to tell her 'no'

Or did she really want to go?
Did she really want to wait
Or was it already way too late?
Did she really think that life was bad
Or was she just lonely and sad.
Perhaps she lived in too much haste
A beautiful life has gone to waste.

Senior Exodus

With hugs, handshakes, grins, sighs of relief, and a tear, They are gone.

Scraps of paper decorate the floor; books lean dejectedly on the shelves, and one chewed pen quietly spreads the last of its ink.

Empty desks, still warm, seem to wait; those desks that were fastened around young bodies like life preservers: afloat in a sea of Shelley and Shakespeare; awash with Byron and Keats and waves of others.

Some swam; some just treaded water; some drowned.

The brilliant, the lazy, the good, the ornery; the rich kids, the poor kids, the loved ones, the unloved . . . gone . . . gone with twelve years tucked into one small transcript.

Dear God, I hope I helped them. Please, Lord, I pray I didn't hurt them.

I cared.

 . . . leaving the past to start the future.

- ... an exciting moment in life.
- ... achieving a goal.
- ...I'm free!
- ... saying goodbye to friends. ... a time to look ahead.

Mike Bardwell Serves as Student Council President

Student Council President Mike Bardwell performed the duties of his office in addition to playing football and participating in club and class activities. He presided at assemblies and represented the students at school and civic events.

Under Bardwell's leadership, the Student Council sponsored successful events including the annual signing party and homecoming activities.

Bardwell escorted Homecoming Finalist Lori Bryant (right) at the pep assembly presentation, then joined the varsity Yellow Jacket football team in serving up a 29-0 victory over Wichita Falls.

On Graduation

You don't like to leave your friends, But your high school years must end. You've looked forward to that last day, But you find it's hard to go on your way.

When you say goodbye, You can't help but cry. Those four years that seemed so long, Have flown by, you can't believe they're gone.

Cherish the memories Of the good times with friends, But just remember When your high school years end, there's another life Waiting to begin.

Now, my friend You must close these doors. For there are new ones now. Open them, they offer even more.

Tammy Schmuelgen

About This Year — And the Yearbook:

Just as each school year is unique, the yearbook telling that year's story should be unique. 1983-84 certainly lived up to that statement. The addition of nearly 400 freshmen and another layer of activities provided the yearbook staff with new challenges. Just getting pictures of the additional athletic events required more after school time for photographers and increased darkroom and editing work. To increase coverage without increasing the size of the book, and its price, the staff moved advertising within the pages of the book much as magazines do.

The staff encountered internal problems that added to the challenges. Iliness and other problems resulted in members failing to complete the assignments they had chosen early in the year. The workload was assumed by several staffers who gave up summer days at the lake to bring you this book. Assuming a giant's share of the work, and insisting that the job be well done, Amy Papoi toiled into August on activities pages. It is impossible to determine how many pages she completed, but a good guess would approach 100 including the academic section she edited with assistance from Kelly Wilkerson. When construction crews moved in to install air conditioning, Amy set up a temporary darkroom in her father's barn and worked at night printing hundreds of pictures you will enjoy on these pages. During the school year, she provided the lettering for the calligraphic art throughout the book and contributed many special touches that enliven the coverage and add depth and personality.

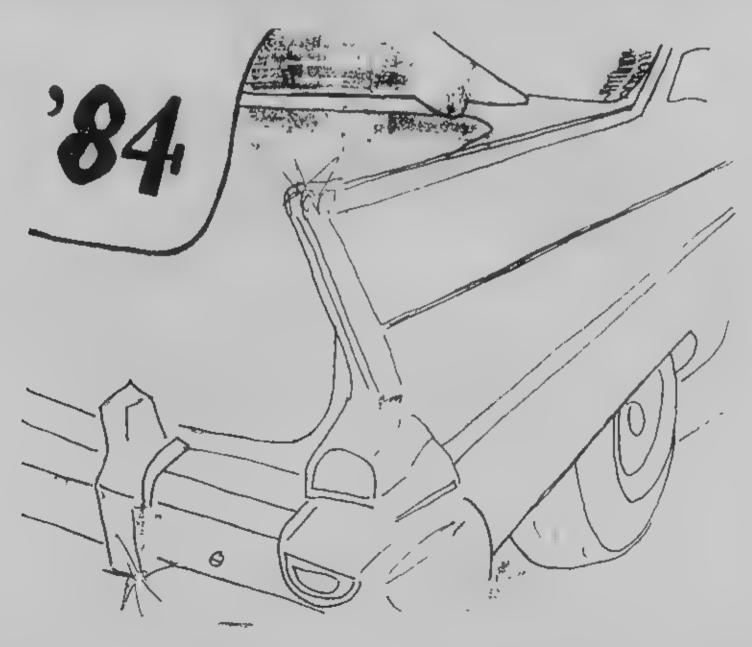

Brad Peel, in addition to the 54 pages he and Brian Watson completed in the sports section, contributed a dozen ad and activity pages. Debbie Hedrick, with a little help from staff members, completed a whopping 44 pages of classes and faculty portraits. Kim Jerger and Christy Gray collaborated on 14 pages on homecoming and 8 activity pages. Sonya Wade contributed 12 of the group pages. Others making contributions and assisting on pages were Rocky Watson, art work on some division pages, Robin Fleming, Sandy Bowman and Tammy Ervin. Kelly added her artistic talents to some division pages, too.

As you look through the 1984 Yellow Jacket, you will find that the theme "We Are More" applies to more pictures, coverage of more activities and more attention to academic coverage. Special attention was given to picturing more students.

Dedication and personal sacrifice have produced a volume that truly captures the year in words and pictures. We hope you will treasure it as we do.
